DETAILED ACTION

On March 9, 2005, an Office Action was sent to the Applicant rejecting claims 1-41. On September 7, 2005, the Applicant responded by amending claim 1 and adding new claims 42-45.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-2, 7-8, 11, 16-17, 22-23, 27-41, and 45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Hoshino (2002/0111918).

Hoshino discloses a method for processing funds transfer transactions comprising a method for verification and processing of a remote transaction using cash as the payment instrument involving a payer's account at a financial institution, opening a remote payment system account for the payer after verifying the payer's identity, payer's financial institution and the specific account at that institution, authenticating the payer's identity when the payer logs into the remote payment system to conduct a remote transaction using cash as the payment instrument, prompting the payer to enter the payee's name, identification information, and transaction amount into the database of the remote payment system; assigning a transaction identification number which the payee will use to identify and request a cash payment, prompting the payee to insert a machine-readable official identification card and enter the assigned transaction identification number into a remote payment system terminal, verifying that embedded identification information read from the payee's official identification card at the remote payment system terminal matches the payee information entered by the payer into the remote payment system database and associated with the transaction identification number entered by the payee, and that the specific amount of funds is available from the payer's account at the financial institution, and if the verification of the payee's identity is successful and the specific amount of transaction funds are available, causing said remote payment terminal to issue a cash payment of that specific amount to the payee (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157; and p.12, 176-178—access is being interpreted as logging into the system); prompting the payer to submit a machine-readable official identification card prior to the opening of said remote payment system account, and opening said the remote payment system account only if embedded identification information read from the payer's identification card matches the account holder information of the financial account identified by the payer (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); prompting the payer to input an additional item of personal information embedded in the identification card (PIN) but not stored in the remote database of the financial institution, and verifying that the additional personal information input by the payer matches the personal information embedded in the identification card (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); prompting the payer to log into the remote payment system with an official identification card, and validating the login only if the embedded identification information read from the payer's identification card matches the account holder information in the remote payment system database (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the personal information input by the payee includes at least a password (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the payer's financial account includes at least a bank account such as checking or savings account (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the payer's financial account includes at least a credit card account (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the payer's financial account includes at least a debit card account (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the remote payment system terminal is incorporated into a self-service machine (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the self-service machine includes at least an ATM terminal (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the self-service machine includes at least a check-cashing terminal (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the self-service machine includes at least a standalone kiosk where cash is available for withdrawal (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the remote payment terminal is installed in a location under the supervision and control of the remote payment system (p.2, 3 to p.3, 33 and 36-37; p.4, 72; p.7, 115-116; p.9, 142 to p.10, 143, 148, and 157); the remote payment system secures the payment funds from the specified payer account against the possible payer's fraud before issuing

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-6, 9-10, 12-15, 18-21, and 24-26, and 42-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoshino in view of Reece (2003/0150915).

Hoshino discloses the invention substantially as claimed; however, Hoshino does not disclose prompting the payer to input an additional item of personal information not embedded in the identification card but stored in the remote database of the financial institution, and verifying that the additional personal information input by the payer matches the personal information stored in the remote database; the personal information input by the payer includes at least part of a social security number; the personal information input by the payer includes at least biometric information; the biometric information input by the payer includes at least a fingerprint; the card is a government issued identification card being a driver's license; including an escrow agent into the transaction based on the agreement between payer and payee, and the payee cannot receive pay; or the payee's official identification card is not linked to any account at any financial institution. Reece discloses an IC authorization method comprising prompting the payer to input an additional item of personal information not embedded in the identification card but stored in the remote database of the financial institution, and verifying that the additional personal information input by the payer matches the personal information stored in the remote database (p.10, 274-297 and

p.11, 314-328); the personal information input by the payer includes at least part of a social security number (p.10, 274-297 and p.11, 314-328); the personal information input by the payer includes at least biometric information (p.10, 274-297 and p.11, 314-328); the biometric information input by the payer includes at least a fingerprint (p.10, 274-297 and p.11, 314-328); the card is a government issued identification card being a driver's license (p.10, 274-297 and p.11, 314-328); including an escrow agent into the transaction based on the agreement between payer and payee (p.10, 274-297 and p.11, 314-328); and the payee cannot receive pay; and the payee's official identification card is not linked to any account at any financial institution (p.10, 274-297 and p.11, 314-328). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate prompting the payer to input an additional item of personal information not embedded in the identification card but stored in the remote database of the financial institution, and verifying that the additional personal information input by the payer matches the personal information stored in the remote database; the personal information input by the payer includes at least part of a social security number; the personal information input by the payer includes at least biometric information; the biometric information input by the payer includes at least a fingerprint; the card is a government issued identification card being a driver's license; including an escrow agent into the transaction based on the agreement between payer and payee, and the payee cannot receive pay; and the payee's official identification card is not linked to any account at any financial institution, as taught by Reece into the invention disclosed by Hoshino, to provide additional alternatives of verifying identity to protect accounts against theft.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

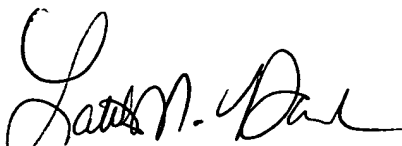

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
